GOLD, SILVER AND OUR POPULA-TION. FOR 100 YEARS, FROM 1790 TO 1890.

In 1790 our population, according to our first census, was 3,223,214; from the year 1792 to 1834, the silver production of the country is reported as "insignificant," and our gold product for the period at only $14,000,000; the world-production of gold, from 1781 to 1890, is estimated at $236,461,000; of silver, at $730,810,000; total, $967,274,000.
In 1800 the population of the United States was 3,308,483; and our production of gold to date is given in the preceding paragraph, where silver production is yet "insignificant" in the United States; the gold and silver product of the world to date is also stated in same paragraph.
In 1810 our population was 7,239,881; the world production of gold from 1791 to 1810 was $118,162,000; of silver, was $730,810,000; total, $967,274,000.
In 1820 our population had grown to 9,633,822; the world production of gold from 1811 to 1820 was $76,063,000; in silver, $224,786,000; total, $294,849,000.
Our population, in 1830, had reached
from 1821 to 1830 was $91,479,000; silver, $191,444,000; total, $282,923,000.
The United States in 1840 had 17,069, 453 inhabitants; the gold product of the world was $134,541,000; from 1831 to 1840; silver, $247,930,000; total, $382,471,000.
The population of the United States in 1850 was 23,191,576; the gold production of the U. S. from 1831 to 1840 was $7,500,000; in silver, $250,000; total, $7,750,000; the world production of gold from 1841 to 1850 was $363,923,000;
silver, $342,400,000; total, $706,323,000.
In 1860 our population had expanded to 31,443,821; our gold production from 1841 to 1860 was $675,000,000; silver, $1,400,000; total, $676,400,000; the world production of gold from 1851 to 1860 was $1,392,081,000; silver, $372,261,000; total, $1,764,342,000.
In 1870 our population was 38,558,871; from 1861 to 1870 the U. S. produced gold to the value of $172,250,000;
silver, $94,750,000; total, $267,000,000;
the world produced, gold, $1,263,915,000;
silver, $507,174,000; total, $1,771,089,000.
Our population in 1880 was 50,155,783; our gold production from 1871 to 1880
$395,300,000; silver, $361,500,000; total, $756,800,000; the world produced was gold,
$1,160,814,000; silver, $918,578,000; total, $2,079,392,000.
The population of the U. S. in 1890 was 62,822,250; the U. S. gold product from 1881 to 1890 was $326,- 710,500; silver, $335,211,144; total, $661,- 921,644; world product, gold, $1,059,535,- 600; silver, $335,211,144; total, $1,394,- 746,744.

WE WANT SILVER ALSO.
The WORLD production of gold and silver since 1890 has been as follows:
1891: gold, $130,650,000; silver, $177,352,-
000; total, $308,002,000.
000; total, $344,665,000.
1893: gold, $157,494,000; silver, $212,914,-
000; total, $370,408,000.
000; total, $393,467,000.
1895: gold, $199,304,000; silver, $216,232,- 000; total, $415,536,000.
000; total, $416,419,000.
730,000; total, $474,234,000.
In the U. S. the production of gold and silver has been as follows:
1891: gold, $33,175,000; silver, $75,416,555;
1892: gold, $33,014,981; silver, $82,101,010;
1893: gold, $35,955,000; silver, $77,576,767;
1894: gold, $39,500,000; silver, $64,000,000;
1895: gold, $46,610,000; silver, $72,051,000;

1896: gold, $53,033,300; silver, $79,059,238;
1897: gold, $57,563,000; silver, $69,037,172;
Total gold, $229,506,231; total silver, $516,850,740; total of both for the seven years, $746,356,971.
The greatest percentage of gold production (in weight and value), to silver production, and to population, WAS IN THE FORTY YEARS, FROM 1840 TO 1880;—the estimate being made by the Mint on the world product; and the smallest percentage of silver production (of the world), as compared with gold, was during the same period,—(the statistics of production, beginning with the discovery of America and its great contributions of gold and silver to Europe). The world production of gold for the forty (40) years ending with 1880, vastly exceeded in value the world production of silver for the same period; the gold product being for the period $1,110,733,000; and the silver only $2,140,273,000,—the excess of gold being $1,070,365,000.
In 1810 our population was 7,069,455;
gold and silver produced by the world, the previous ten years, $382,771,000—or $23 per capita for our population. In 1850 the population of the U. S. was 23,- 191,576; the world production of gold and silver the previous ten years was $706,- 328,000—or $30.50 per capita of our population. In 1890 our population was 62,- 822,250; the world production of gold and silver was $2,079,392,000,—or $31 per capita of our population. In 1890, with a population of 62,822,250,—the annual world production of gold and silver was $281,880,700; or $4.50 per capita a year, for our population. In 1897, with an estimated population of 72,000,000, and a world production of gold and silver estimated at $474,235,100, the annual per capita for the U. S. was $6.55.
If, as estimated, there be 1,500,000,000 inhabitants of the earth who use gold and silver for money, ornament, &c., then the whole production of gold AND silver in the world, for the year 1897 ($474,235,100) amounted only to a little over 31 cents a head.
No other period of forty (40) years before that of 1840-1880, produced so much of the precious metals (gold and silver) or so much in proportion to people and transactions requiring money; or so much gold in proportion to silver.
Neither metal is at all likely to be so abundant as to lose its relative money-value to the other; nor has mankind ever had as much of BOTH as they need. It is only engrossers, brokers and speculators in money values and credit, who can be benefited by a scarcity of money; and every fact and figure, in relation to gold and silver, from the earliest dates, assure us that the more abundant they are, the greater is the general prosperity. Why talk of gold ONLY, when we need silver also.

DECAY IS AT THE TOP!
Every brave, honest and intelligent freeman has a special mission from God Himself; such a man should disdain to follow any other man who lacks the qualities of which he himself is conscious, and should stand forward in his sphere, be it what it may, to marshal his fellows the way they should go, even though the usurping conspirators against common right and the general welfare denounce him with all the bitterness of the gall of iniquity that fills them.
Wendell Phillips used to say that one man for truth and right, with God on his side, constituted a majority; but the highest conception that every patriot must have is that of a fidelity in duty to God, man and country, though he stand alone, apparently abandoned even by God Himself. And to think that there are so many who assume to be men, and yet, on eager all-fours, rush in greedy clamor at the heels of any keeper of the crib, or distributor of graft! But the worst of it is that this bestial throng pride themselves on the instinct with which they pursue the trail and make a triumphal procession of their degradation and selfabasement!
An intelligent man should be ashamed of the vile association, and the conscientious man should abhor it. The crowd, the tumult, and the noise, confounded and cover the personal severity, and if the fifth in which one crawls, is objectionable; why, there is Judge So and So, Dr. Bohus, Professor Fudge and other magistrates, all down, rooting! Oh, Judge! Oh, Doctor! Oh, Professor!
The humblest citizen who stands apart, in manly self-respect, demanding self-government, though he cannot get it, because rascals, who pretend to be better than he, prefer slops and servitude!
What a picture! Wealth debauching Intelligence, business, society and education! Intelligence fawning at the feet of wealth, with incense and flattery, feigning to seek safety from the honest poor who are willing to be robbed of everything but their manhood and liberty! Virtue, despised, because she is not a millionaire, and grants no subsidies. The U. S. Senator, the Justice, the L. L. D., and ay, oftentimes even the D. D., struggling for the office of boot-black to the man with the bag, cheek-book! Oh, for a whip of scorpions to lash the rascals, naked through the world!

The Elizabeth City (N. C.) News carries the following ticket at the head of its editorial columns. For President in 1900, William J. Bryan, of Nebraska; for Vice President in 1900, John W.
Daniel, of Virginia.
The Danville Register entered upon its thirty-sixth volume last Sunday.
The Register has been greatly improved under the ownership and management of Senator R. A. James and is in every sense a progressive and prosperous journal.

KNIVES RULE BY FOOLS.
Verified and pertinent facts, figures and arguments, truth, right and justice, reason and religion, appeal in vain to most men, for there are comparatively few of them who are not born-fools or hired knaves. These are things, however, with which only a small number of men are familiar; and fools and knaves are current enough in the crdinary daily intercourse of life, because this does not make such demands on morality or intellectual capacity as to expose the absence of either. It is in transactions, or opinions, involving moral principles and considerations, and requiring some rational ability, that show whether or not the man be knave, or fool, or neither; and so most fools and knaves go undetected except by the few whose special business it is to make inquisition for them.
It is really astonishing how numerous they are! It is still more astonishing to learn that men who are accredited with sense and integrity are wholly wanting in both, outside the narrow sphere and routine in which they make their money, or win their standing in society. It is, perhaps, chiefly in public affairs, in party politics, in the strife for office and for policies and measures, that most men strip themselves, or are stripped by others, quite naked—nude to the very heart, brain and soul, stark idiots or unblushing knaves.
And their tribes increase! for if we eliminate the money-factor, it becomes more and more evident daily that the standards of intelligence and morality are certain stuffed elligies, or decoyducks, or phantoms, that repeat or parade approved phrases, that at once, by similar repetition, make any number of parrots and imitators the full equals, in mind and morals, of their models.
No doubt! A perfect and infallible equipment is the decoy-duck on one side, and the scare-crow on the other; and the knaves and fools are the peers of saints and sages!
Barabbas is a robber-chief; but he has the spoils and the distribution thereof; and the high-priests and the Scribes and Pharisees are for him and his policies and methods. What better should knaves and fools require? If any opponent rise against him and his platform, crucify him for sedition, and as a blasphemer and lecher, a socialist and communist, a reviler of dignities, an associate of the common people and a pestilent fellow. Crucify him! Hurrah for Barabbas!

The so-called "Monroe doctrine" of the United States applies in spirit as much to Republican government as to American territory, and the government of this country should at least extend a friendly interest to all real Republics everywhere. The encroachments of any European or monarchical government on the liberties, independence, territory, rights or interests of such a Republic ought to be met with the protest of the United States, and the assurance that we would regard such encroachments as unfriendly acts toward us. Such a protest, unsupported by war, or a threat of war, would once have been ridiculous; but not in this age, when a nation's kind regard and respect have an acknowledged practical value in many ways.
Even the corn this year demands more money and higher prices, growing to a height never known so generally before, in protest against the low rates that have been prevailing for it. It exhibits the height of insolence and will have its ears pulled till it lowers its demands.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.
THE SENATORIAL RACE.
(Culpeper Enterprise.)
There is a tendency among a great many of the would-be leaders in the Democratic party in Virginia to do the very thing which the Ohio Democrats are protesting against, and it is as utterly opposed to true Democracy as anything can be. The thing is developing itself all over the State in this Senatorial contest between Martin and Tyler, and we hear men very often saying, "Oh! Tyler had no business running for the Senate; he is disorganizing the party." And we would just like for these gentlemen to tell us when the United States Senatorship became a franchise, with the right vested in the Hon. Thomas S. Martin. Surely he has no more right to the office than any other honorable citizen of the State.
Mr. Martin may have done some very good work in the Senate since he has been in that body, but we are opposed to him not because of anything that he has done or that he has not done as a Senator, but because of the manner in which he obtained his seat in that body, and because we believe him to be a machine politician, who does not represent Democracy, and who is doing in this State just what the Ohio Democrats are protesting against.

THE HOPE OF MANY.
(Danville Daily Bee.)
That there is much dissatisfaction concerning the action of the machine, cannot be doubted. Suppose that the country where so much dissatisfaction prevails conclude to elect independent candidates to the Legislature. What then would become of Martin's boasted majority? Those independent candidates can go to Richmond, and the Tyler men need not go into caucus.
Should they join hands there is hope that they could defeat Martin. It would be all right for the Tyler men, opposing machine rule, to refuse to go into caucus—and this is why there is much uneasiness among the leaders.
It may be said that this campaign being waged by Tyler and the anti-Martin men is doing the party no good. It is sorry history that is being made. If all that Tyler claims is true, while he may have been doing his most purely sowing seed which will bring a crop of disruption. And it is right that he should fearlessly speak the truth.
